Daughter of Late Ira Threat Visits Here from Philippines

AWAY BACK BEFORE WORLD WAR I Ira Threat enlisted in the U. S. Army. He served during the war and stayed in service, going to Manila in the Philippines, and there he received his discharge.

There he married Olivia Gilbert, half-English, half-Filipino. They had one daughter, Olive, born in 1931.

They continued to live in Manila, where Mr. Threat got in business. But on Jan. 17, 1937, the father was killed in an automobile crash. The mother, knowing of the advantages of the United States over the Philippine Islands for her young daughter, wrote Threat's relatives there telling of her desire that Olive be brought to Harrisburg to live.

Mrs. Carroll Ware

angle they knew trying to get Olive here but they just couldn't get her a passport. However, they corresponded at intervals.

Olive is in Harrisburg today. Timmo talked with her yesterday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Smith at 1214 South Granger street. Mrs. Smith is a sister of her father. It's Olive's picture you see in this column today.

Olive got here by marrying a member of the U. S. Air Force stationed in the Philippines. He's Staff Sergeant Carroll E. Ware, a native of Maine, who spent two and a half years there.

Sgt. Ware and his wife came to the United States a year ago in January and he finished out his enlistment at Roswell, N. Mexico, getting his discharge March 1.

Then the two and their tiny baby started for his home in Maine, coming here for a visit en route. They arrived here Wednesday and expect to leave Sunday.

Ware said yesterday that after a visit with his people he probably would re-enlist in the Air Force, where he has spent the past six years. He wouldn't mind going back to the Philippines for a hitch or two, he said, because the duty is good out there. But he added, he wouldn't want to spend the rest of his days there.

His wife was very emphatic about how well she likes to live in the United States. It's just dandy.

During World War II, when the Japs invaded the Philippines, Olive and her mother had tough times. Food was scarce and they had to move several times, once out of the province. Once, they left Manila for a province where they had been scheduled to move into had been burned the night before. They had to make the trek back to Manila.

Her mother still lives there, having married again.

Mrs. Smith is very happy about having with her the niece she had never before seen. The girl's father was living here with the Smiths when he left for service.

Besides Mrs. Smith, Isham and Milas Threat, Mrs. Ada Fox and Mrs. Eulah Pinchoff are brothers and sisters of her father.

Britain Bans Part Of Jane Russell Film

LONDON (AP)—Part of Jane Russell's torrid dance in the controversial film, "The French Line," will not be shown on British screens, it was announced today.

The British Board of Film Censors said it was following the lead taken by some theater owners in the United States and cutting out the section which was found objectionable.

Stevens Aide Quits Over Clash With McCarthy

Army Secretary Denies He Also
Plans to Resign

WASHINGTON (AP)—Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens today denied he would follow one of his top aides out of the government as a result of his angry clash with Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy.

Stevens said through a spokesman that a published report he had offered to resign as "absolutely not true." A well-placed Army spokesman added that Stevens "has not offered to resign, has no intention of resigning and would not give McCarthy that satisfaction."

A special assistant to Stevens, John F. Kane, quit his $10,000-a-year post Friday charging that high administration officials failed to back up Stevens in his fight with McCarthy over treatment of Army witnesses before the Wisconsin Republican's permanent investigating subcommittee.

Kane said he resigned because Stevens was not receiving "full fighting support in the gallant battle you (Stevens) are trying to put up for the Army."

Receives Ovation
"I know that you as a person have been hurt in fighting Senator McCarthy's methods," Kane wrote Stevens. "If you hadn't been fighting, you wouldn't have been hurt. That is why various other people in the government have not fought before you did."

Kane urged Stevens to "stay in your post" and fight against all political pressure whether it be "Democratic, Republican or personal."

Simultaneously with Kane's resignation Stevens gave his side of the stormy dispute in an off-the-record speech to the Union League Club in New York Friday. Stevens was in high spirits over the reaction and was interrupted three times by standing ovations from the audience, an Army source said.

Kane, who claims no political affiliations, also served under the former Democratic administration. He is a former newspaperman who served in the ranks during World War II.

Hold 2 Cubans Found with Weapon Arsenal

NEW YORK (AP)—Police brought charges of illegal possession of weapons today against two Cubans who used a boarded-up Manhattan store building to hide an arsenal of anti-tank guns, rifles and hand grenades.

Police Commissioner Francis W. H. Adams took charge of an investigation to trace the destination of the weapons.

"The plan was to remove the guns from the country," Adams said. "We assume others were involved but we don't know how many."

Roberto Oscar Acevedo, 32, and Mario Cruz, 34, identified by police as Cuban nationals, were booked early today on two counts each of violation of the Sullivan Act, which regulates possession of weapons. One count charged illegal possession of guns and the other illegal possession of bombs.

In a search for suspects Friday night police confiscated several placards in the basement headquarters of the "Civic Action For Cuba Committee." The placards said: "Wake up America! Batista is a Communist dictator who has converted Cuba into a concentration camp."

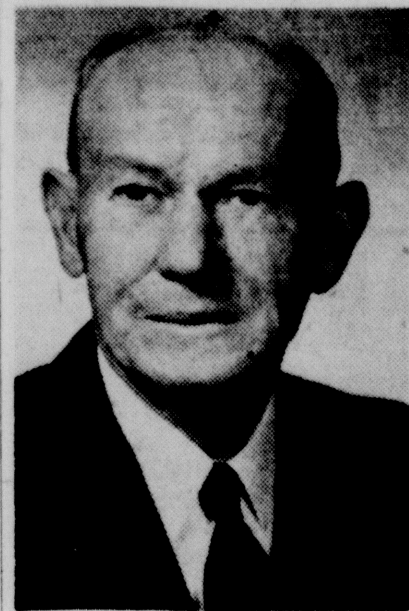

Adams questioned seven other men and a woman Friday night and early today in connection with the case and then released them. He said he had found no link between the arms cache and last week's shooting in the House of Representatives by Puerto Rican nationalists.

HTHS Senior Play To Be Held April 9

The senior play committee for the Harrisburg Township high school has selected for this year's play, "Guest in the House," to be given April 9.

The cast will consist of Frank Chase, June Blackard, Myra Burnam, Fredi Christman, Mary Anne Hamm, Marjorie Zimmer, Harry Boyd, Anne Funkhouser, Betty Butner, Mollie Jean Brinkley, John Shepherd, David Patterson, Kenneth Berry and John Wiley. Mrs. Lolo Eddy is the director and Regina McCormick will be prompter.

The play was written by Hagar Wilde and Dale Eumson from a story by Katherine Albert.

S. H. FRAZIER DAY will be observed at the First Baptist church in honor of the Rev. S. H. Frazier, former pastor of the church, who has been serving as interim pastor for the past six weeks and for the past two weeks has been engaged in a successful revival. Since Sunday is his last day with the church, the goal of the members is to have a large crowd for each service, morning, evening. (Foster Photo)

Officer Named To Study Court Martial of POW

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—An Army officer investigated today to discover whether Claude Batchelor, 23-year-old corporal who changed his mind and left a Communist prison camp, should be court martialled.

The Kermit, Tex., soldier was arrested Friday, charged with violating military code Articles 104 and 105—aiding the enemy and activity detrimental to fellow soldiers—and Article 134.

Since charges do not provide that a court martial be automatic, an officer was appointed by the commanding general with court martial jurisdiction to see whether one is indicated.

In the meantime, Batchelor was held in the stockade at Fort Sam Houston. The Army indicated he will remain there until a decision has been reached.

Batchelor's Japanese wife, whose letters are credited with persuading him to leave the Communists, said he had expected to be arrested "because of a misunderstanding."

Wife Awaits Visa
She said in Tokyo that Batchelor discussed the possibility he would be arrested before he flew to the United States 10 days ago.

The wife is awaiting a visa for entry to the United States and planned to join her husband at Kermit. But, vowing to wait 10 years for him if necessary, she indicated she may remain at home in Tokyo until his case has been cleared up.

Batchelor was arrested at Brooke Army Medical Center where he came for a routine physical examination before going on a 30-day furlough.

Batchelor was one of 23 American POWs who turned Communist under the Chinese Reds. He and one other—Cpl. Edward Dickenson of Crackers Neck, Va.—changed their minds after the Korean truce and came home.

Mrs. W. B. Bradley Dies En Route to Her Home Here

Mrs. W. B. (Nellie) Bradley, 59, wife of W. B. Bradley, a railroad worker at 231 Woolcott street, died Friday in a railroad station in Chicago while returning home from Sterling, Ill., where she had been visiting her son, Alvin Bradley.

She was born in McLeansboro Aug. 19, 1894.

She is survived by her husband; seven children, Alvin of Sterling, Mrs. Alwila Huston, Hazel Bradley, William H. and William M. Bradley, all of Harrisburg, Charles, who is in the Navy, and Clifford of Chester; two grandchildren, two sisters and three brothers.

She was a member of the Missionary Baptist church in Gaskins City.

The body will arrive in Harrisburg late this afternoon and will lie in state at the Harrisburg funeral home. No funeral arrangements have been made.

Rites at Shawneetown Sunday at 2 p. m. For Mrs. Ronald Prehm

The funeral of Mrs. Ronald Prehm, sister of Mrs. Charles Ford Jr., who burned to death Thursday at her home in Brazil, Ind., will be Sunday at 2 p. m. at the Presbyterian church in New Shawneetown. Rev. Rowland Westervelt will officiate, and burial will be in the Westwood cemetery.

Stevenson to Address Top Demos Tonight

Will Discuss
McCarthy Issue as
'Grave Situation'

MIAMI BEACH (AP)—Top Democrats today pressed a united attack on the Republican administration's "McCarthy issue," which Adlai Stevenson termed a "grave situation" in government.

The Democrat leaders met with some 45 Southern congressmen to discuss the party stand on key national issues in a third sectional rally to launch the 1954 off-year election campaigns.

Stevenson, as their standard bearer, will deliver the keynote address in a sweeping attack on the Republicans in his address at 10:30 p. m. EST tonight at a $100-a-plate dinner.

At a press conference late Friday Stevenson called the feud between President Eisenhower, Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) and Army Secretary Robert Stevens "a grave situation" in government.

The 1952 Democratic candidate for president said he would discuss the "McCarthy" issue further in his nationally televised (CBS-TV) and broadcast (NBC) address before the 12-state rally.

Stevenson and other party leaders indicated their campaign strategy would be to consider the controversy over McCarthy purely a Republican problem warranting no interference from Democrats in Congress.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, Georgia Democrat, and Sen. Lyndon Johnson, of Texas, Senate Democratic leader, who will speak on the same program with Stevenson, predicted the Republicans will not be able to make any campaign headway on the issue of Communism in government.

Stevenson told newsmen he felt sure the Army has not coddled the Communists deliberately any more than the previous administration coddled any subversives, traitors or spies deliberately.

McCarthy who is visiting here told reporters he did not know of the rally and was surprised to find himself surrounded by Democrats when he flew here on business.

"I certainly did not come down for that," McCarthy said when he arrived Friday night on a plane.

Stevenson declined to express his view of the prospect of ending the present "recession" before the elections next fall, saying, "I'm just a simple politician. I don't know."

Asked if he is considering running for president again in 1956, Stevenson quipped that "at the moment I'm more interested in running for the beach."

Senator Lehman Assails GOP Red Hunters

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. Herbert H. Lehman charged today that no one in the Eisenhower administration "seems to be courageous enough to reckon with" Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy.

The New York Democrat also accused McCarthy and other "irrationalists and anti-intellectuals" of trying to control the nation's schools by intimidating teachers.

In a speech prepared for the New York Teachers Guild, Lehman said "the present awkward maneuvering by the administration, the current show of limited opposition to Sen. McCarthy is much more a guarded contest for power within the Republican Party than an all-out struggle for principle."

The New York Democrat, a longtime foe of McCarthy and one of the few senators who has openly clashed with him, bitterly assailed leading congressional Red hunters.

He denounced Chairman William E. Jenner (R-Ind.) of the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee and Chairman Harold H. Velde (R-Ill.) of the House Un-American Activities Committee as "inquisitors" and "false anti-Communists."

The New York senator called on President Eisenhower to "set principle above party and take strong leadership of the forces seeking to resist the fearful assault upon our liberties and our standards of political decency."

Whiteside Rites at Creal Springs Sunday

The funeral of Henry B. Whiteside, Creal Springs resident who died at 9:15 p. m. Thursday in the Harrisburg hospital, will be Sunday at 2 p. m. in the Cosby funeral home in Creal Springs. Rev. Roy Reynolds will conduct the service, and burial will be in the Robinson cemetery.

THE PUBLIC FOR YEARS HAS BEEN PLAGUED by dumping of trash and cans on the roads of the county and the above shows a dumping incident that occurred just a short distance from the city, on Route 13 immediately east of the flood wall. Pictured is a load of cans and trash thrown on the state road right-of-way, with three state highway maintenance men, Kenneth Bragg, Charles Emery and Charles Wenzel, of Equality, and Sheriff Paul Spangler standing nearby. Highway maintenance men spend a good deal of time in picking up stuff that has been dumped on rights-of-way, which means the taxpayers are having to pay for this work. But in the above case the trash was searched and an old fishing license was found which gave clues, leading to the arrest of E. C. "Wingy" Johnson, who was fined for dumping trash on a highway when arraigned in the court of Justice of the Peace Vern Joyner. (A. Sweat Photo)

SALINE COUNTY OIL REPORT: Saline is Fourth Most Active In Drilling Tests

By BOB SKEELS

Saline county is the fourth most active county in Illinois this week, with White leading the parade, followed by Wayne, Clay and Saline.

There are seventeen operations, three of which are completed oil wells and one wildcat drill hole. Slaughter Producing has finally plugged and abandoned its No. 1 L. B. Hale, NE SW 22-8-66, one half mile south of Raleigh, at a total depth of 3075 after running five whipsstocks and spending over $50,000.00, for total costs. A 3-hour drill stem test 2953-63 opposite the Aux Vases sandy lime recovered only 25 feet of salty mud. A 90 minute drill stem test of the McCloskey lime 3010-75 recovered 210 feet of gas cut mud, and 300 feet of muddy sulphur water. Another wildcat "opened by mistake."

In the Eldorado area, Ashland has completed its No. 2 Victor Suttner, NE SE SE, 7-8-76, pumping 100 barrels of oil a day from the Aux Vases sand 2926-31 after a 10 quart shot of nitro.

Wells Completed
Carter Oil has also completed its No. 2 Velma Turner, NW SE SW, in 8-8-76, and is casing and cementing the well. It is also drilling below 1100 on the No. 3 test today.

Their No. 4 B. F. Lemons, in the same area, has casing set and is awaiting cable tools to complete the Cypress sand, TD 2654.

In the Eldorado area, Carter Oil is digging at 2378 on its No. 3 Velma Turner, one location north of the No. 2, which was completed this past week.

The No. 2 test on the Roy Watson farm, in the southwest corner of section 8 owned by John Stelle and associates is drilling below 2750 after running drill stem tests on the Tar Springs and Hardinsburg sands. The Tar Springs tested 1400 feet of gas, and 75 feet of gas cut mud and the Hardinsburg tested lots of gas and 45 feet of mud, with no showing of oil.

Paul Rue, consulting geologist of Mt. Vernon is picking the samples. Pump Testing on Porter Farm Illinois Mid Continent is awaiting cable tools to complete its No. 1 Leslie Stinson, NW NE NW, 17-8-76, in the Aux Vases sand 2921-31 after running casing.

Two miles east of Eldorado, G. L. Reaser is pump testing the Aux Vases lime 2895-2901 on his No. 2 test on the James H. Porter farm in NE NW SE, 23-8-76, after swabbing eight barrels oil per hour before installing pumping equipment. TD 2902.

His No. 3 test has casing set, also on the Aux Vases from 2894-89 following a drill stem test which lasted in 6 minutes and recovered 325 feet of clean oil, and 120 feet of mud cut oil. Bill Harris of Carmi is the geologist on these Reaser wells.

The west offset to Miami Operating production in 24-8-76, near the Gallatin County line, three miles due east of Eldorado, is drilling today at 2580 with Cy Herndon's rotary tools of Carmi.

U. S. to Pour Billion in Aid Into Indochina

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States plans to throw more than one billion dollars in aid behind French and native forces battling Communist rebels in Indochina, Foreign Aid Chief Harold E. Stassen said Friday.

Stassen, just back from a tour of Indochina and the Far East, said the U. S. military aid program in Indochina is based on the expectation of a military victory over the Reds within two years.

He told reporters after a visit to the White House that he holds a "strong conviction that the forces of freedom in the Far East are growing stronger and that the Communist position is weakening."

Stassen said this applied to both the military and economic picture. He said later in a radio interview "CBS' Capitol Cloakroom" that the French and their Indochinese allies are "on the way to victory" in their long struggle with Communists.

A foreign operations administration spokesman said the aid to Indochina this year will include both military and economic help. He said 785 million dollars will be economic aid to support the Indochinese fighting; 25 million dollars will be economic and technical aid to Indochina, and between 250 and 350 million dollars will be direct military aid.

Spot Wreckage of Plane; See No Signs of Survivors

MARSEILLE, France (AP)—Ground rescuers today reported they spotted the wreckage of a plane believed to be a missing U. S. Air Force C-47 but they saw no sign that any of the 20 persons aboard survived.

The wreckage was reported located by a search party looking through binoculars. It was 9240 feet up in France's "graveyard of planes" in the Alps about 40 miles north of Nice.

None of the rescuers was expected to reach the wreckage before Sunday morning at the earliest since they must cross a mountain range at 11,440 feet through snowy crags to reach the crash site southwest of the village of St. Etienne de Tignes.

Even if any of the 16 passengers and 4 crewmen survived the crash, officials doubted that a person could remain alive after nearly three days of exposure to the numbing cold.

The plane flying from Rome to Bitburg, Germany, crashed Thursday.

Four Puerto Ricans Assured Of Fair Trial

Attorneys Named
For Defense After
Plea of Innocent

WASHINGTON (AP)—Four Puerto Ricans who poured a barrage of bullets into the House of Representatives Monday were assured today of a fair trial from the government they hate.

Federal Judge James W. Morris told the four at their arraignment Friday he was determined to see that they have a fair trial and that their rights are protected when they go on trial here April 5.

The four pleaded innocent to 10 assault charges placed against them as a result of the fantastic shooting which cut down five congressmen.

Morris outlined through a Spanish interpreter the rights the fanatical nationalists are guaranteed under the American system of justice. He appointed four well-known Washington attorneys to defend them.

Mrs. Lolita Lebron, petite, 34-year-old ringleader of the band, was the first to enter her plea of innocent. She said "I would like it to be charged that what I committed was the defense of my country."

She told Morris in a barely audible voice that a defense attorney was on his way here from New York.

Rafael Cancel Miranda, 25, also pleaded innocent because "I did what I did in defense of my country." The other two defendants—Andres Figueroa Cordero, 29, and Irving Flores Rodriguez, 28—mumbled their innocent pleas.

All were indicted on five charges each of assault with intent to kill and assault with a dangerous weapon. They face a probable maximum penalty of 75 years each in prison.

On request of U. S. Attorney Leo A. Rover, Morris fixed bond at $100,000 each. Referring to the "utter ruthlessness" of their act, Rover said the assassins were likely to try a repeat performance if they are released from custody.

Captured with Woman After Siege of Home

Is Sister of Man
Killed in Attempt
On Truman's Life

SAN JUAN, P. R. (AP)—Police gassed and captured Nationalist leader Pedro Albizu Campos and four "dangerous" members of his fanatic minority party after a two-hour siege of his home here today.

Albizu and Doris Torresola, sister of the would-be assassin killed in the 1950 attempt on President Truman's life, were surrounded in his apartment at 6 a. m., while police elsewhere on the island sought 36 other Nationalists on subversive charges. A man and two other women were also captured there.

The first police approach to the apartment was met by a burst of gunfire, and Police Capt. Benigno Soto pulled his men back to wait until daylight before taking further action.

There was a sporadic exchange of shots during the siege, and then, shortly before 8 a. m., Albizu or Miss Torresola set fire to the apartment.

Both On Wanted List

Detective Andres Lugo Cay lobbed a series of tear-gas bombs into the burning building, and police burst into the apartment at 7:55 a. m. They found Albizu and Miss Torresola lying unconscious on the floor.

Two burning mattresses were thrown out of the apartment, and firemen dashed in to quench any other flames.

All of the captives are members of the group of 38 "dangerous" Nationalists whose arrest was ordered early today as a consequence of the Nationalist terror attack on the U. S. House of Representatives Monday.

Police Chief Salvador T. Roig said others on the wanted list of 31 men and 7 women are being rounded up by police raiders in a dozen Puerto Rican communities, but it was not certain how many have been arrested.

Warrants for the 38 arrests were issued by the Insular Department of Justice, and a number of officials—including Judge Julio Suarez Garria, Dist. Atty. Jose C. Aponte and Victor Gutierrez Franqui, majority leader of the Insular Senate—gathered at the police station today as raiding squads set out to round up the Nationalists.

Pardoned Last Year
Roig said the captured Nationalist would be held in $25,000 bail each pending court action.

Insular authorities said they will request revocation of the pardon that freed Albizu from prison last September. The other 37 Nationalists will be charged with violation of a Puerto Rican anti-subversive law.

Albizu is president of the party that staged an abortive revolt here in October, 1950, tried to assassinate President Truman early in November of that year, and injured five members of the U. S. House of Representatives in a terrorist attack Monday.

The party president was sentenced to prison for 81 years for his own part in the 1951 revolt, but was pardoned last year on the advice of psychiatrists after he told prison doctors he was being subjected to "atomic attack" from buildings around the prison.

State Federation of Labor Urges Atomic Energy Plant in Illinois

CHICAGO (AP)—The Illinois State Federation of Labor called for location of an atomic energy plant in Illinois.

In its weekly newsletter, the ISFL urged all of its central bodies and affiliates to ask their congressmen and Sens. Everett M. Dirksen and Paul H. Douglas to back the proposal.

The ISFL said the Atomic Energy Commission has indicated it will build a power reactor plant to provide civilian use of nuclear power.

"Due to the shutting down of mines in southern-central Illinois, new industries are needed," the newsletter said. "This would be a boon not only to the workers and businessmen of the area, but to the state as a whole."

HOW FERGUSON ADJUSTS WEIGHT TO SAVE ON LIGHT JOBS

The revolutionary Ferguson System transforms tractor and implement into a single power-farming unit.

It does this through the Ferguson-invented, three-point, sixty-second implement attachment, and a unique system of tractor-mounted implements with hydraulic draft control.

Which means that when you plow or do other heavy tillage work, the Ferguson System adds the soil's weight to the tractor-implement weight—through the hydraulic system. This automatically gives you extra traction weight when you need it... lets you pull three bottoms in most soils easily and smoothly!

But most important: On light work... the day-in, day-out jobs you do most of the time... your Ferguson isn't forced to haul excess, built-in weight that drains your gas and oil. This is not true when you do light jobs with an oversized tractor.

Thus, Ferguson gives you big-tractor capacity, but does not give you big-tractor fuel bills when you do light work!
Are you interested in improving your income? Then we want to come to your farm and give you a generous sample of the low-cost Ferguson "30" doing your jobs at a saving.
Phone today, and let's set a date—soon!

Four Meetings in County to Explain Farm Resolutions

Four meetings have been scheduled in Saline county for explanation of Farm Bureau resolutions seeking legislation designed to bring about a sounder farm program.

The resolutions, 24 of them, were drafted last November in Chicago by Farm Bureau delegates as a result of 1,386 meetings throughout the state at which farmers stated their views on what should be contained in any future farm program.

The Saline county meetings, at which the resolutions will be explained:

Eldorado Washington school, 7
p. m. Tuesday, March 9.

Somerset school, 7 p. m. Wednesday, March 10.

Galatia high school, 7 p. m. Thursday, March 11.

day, March 12.

IAA Approves Cut In Dairy Supports

CHICAGO (CP) — The Illinois Agricultural Assn. said today its board of directors has expressed approval of the cut in dairy price supports from 90 to 75 per cent of parity.

The reduction becomes effective
April 1.

The IAA said its directors' action was in accord with the flexible price support policy favored by delegates to the state-wide Farm Bureau meeting last November.

Lower prices will create an immediate hardship on dairymen, the board said, but after the initial adjustment a firmer market and more healthy situation for the future should result.

SIU Country Column

By Albert Meyer

Although orchardists have been busy with pruning, there still is some to do, but it is time to get this work out of the way before trees start heavy spring growth.
There is some advantage to holding off on pruning until late winter or early spring, however, if you are able to do the job rather quickly. You will run less risk of winter injury to the trees.

One of the fruit experts at SIU passes along several reasons for a good pruning job on fruit trees.
Perhaps they are not new to you,
but here goes anyway.

Good pruning lets more sunlight get to the center of the trees, helping develop larger, well-colored fruit. By pruning properly you also thin out the branches so that your spray materials penetrate to the center and top of the tree, giving better control of diseases and insect pests.

Of course, the prime aim should be to get the pruning done while the tree is quite dormant. This prevents loss of plant nutrient that otherwise would go to the branches to be thinned. The plant food saved should produce better quality fruit and tree vigor.

Tree fruits are borne on year-old wood. The annual dormant pruning has the effect of maintaining a good supply of wood that will bear fruit. There is little characteristic to note on apple trees, too. A strong apple spur bearing fruit has a zigzag growth pattern. If the spur grows straight year after year you can bet your socks it doesn't bear fruit.

Speaking of trees, let's think a bit about the woodlot. Are you going to plant any forest trees in your woodland or on that washed-out hillside that's not fit to cultivate or pasture? Do your planting when the ground is such that you can pack the soil firmly about the roots.

Have you talked to your farm forester or farm adviser about woodland management? If you have any timber to harvest, it should be done while you yet have some spare time. Kill or cut out the cull trees while harvesting the better timber because they are only using up good plant food and moisture that otherwise can go to the better young trees and make them grow faster. The little extra time used will pay big dividends in the long run.

In selling timber products, whether as standing timber or delivered to the sawmill, it is a good idea to have a formal agreement.
Written timber sales contracts
signed by both parties are best.
If you do not have written agreement and are going to sell logs delivered to the sawmill, you had best make a verbal arrangement covering the deal before you drive up with your logs.

While on the subject of selling timber, here is another suggestion:
If you haven't made a fairly good estimate of the volume of timber you have for sale and haven't figured out ahead of time about what it is worth in the stump, how do you know you are getting a reasonable price for it when you make a lump sum sale to a buyer or sawmill operator?

Cull Herd for Dairy Profits

Cull your dairy herd to fewer and better cows and you'll make more profit, says J. G. Cash.

To prove his point, the University of Illinois dairy extension specialist cites a case of two neighboring DHIA herds that finished 1953 tests with nearly $1,000 difference in profits.

These two dairymen had 11 and 16 cows of the same breed. The smaller herd returned $145 more per cow above feed costs than the larger herd. Even though its average feed costs were $22 higher per cow, the small herd netted $930 more profit.

The milk was sold on the same market, feed costs per hundred-weight were equal and the two dairymen fed the same rate of grain.
By culling the low producers,

60,000 Members 1954 Goal for Illinois 4-H

National 4-H Club Week, March 6-14, will see a special membership drive in which the 58,000 Illinois 4-H club members will try to boost their enrollment past the 60,000 mark.

First goal in Illinois 4-H club work this year is to hold more first-year members, according to Miss Anna Searl and E. I. Pilch-ard, state leaders of home economics and agricultural 4-H Clubs respectively.

About 30 percent of the total Illinois 4-H club membership each year is made up of first-year members, the leaders say. And, about half of these new members drop out during or after their first year.

The second goal is to reach and enroll new members from among the many boys and girls who are eligible. During National 4-H Club Week, special invitations will go out to young people between the ages of 10 and 21 years in each community.

Illinois club members hope to see about 3,000 more new members join their "learn by doing" activities to become better farmers, homemakers and community leaders.

Farmers Need Good Housekeeping in Barn

A lot of farm accidents could be prevented if farmers were as concerned about good house keeping in their barns as their wives are about the appearance of their homes.

When it comes to preventing accidents, good housekeeping around the barn is probably more important than keeping the house spic and span, Gordon McCleary, farm safety specialist at the University of Illinois, advises farmers to take a little time right now to clean out the hazards around the barn to make winter chores safer.

If the alleyway or other work areas are cluttered with sacks of feed, stools, carts and other obstacles, find a safe, out-of-the-way place for them. Forks, scrapers and other barn-cleaning tools belong in a safe storage rack, not stuck up over beams.

You'll be using the ladder or stairs to the haymow more often now, so make sure all steps and rungs are sound and fastened well.
If the ladder doesn't stick up well above the left floor, build an extension.

Chances are that you could see a lot better if you cleaned the cobwebs and fly specks from light bulbs. If you're still short of light after cleaning the bulbs, have some extra lights put in. They'll save time and make your work easier and safer.

Bethlehem's Star

Some astronomers believe that the Star of Bethlehem was a supernova, or exploding star, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

The 11-cow herd averaged 457 pounds of butterfat per cow, while the larger herd's average was only 281 pounds.

Well Managed Farms Profitable

Barring catastrophe, well-managed farms will be profitable in 1954 in spite of fears raised by surpluses, lower prices and high costs.

Economic conditions are important, of course, but the most profitable adjustment for the Illinois farmer this year is the same as always—adjustment of his crops to the quality of his land.

P. E. Johnston, University of Illinois farm economist, reports that's what a study of hundreds of Illinois farm records show.

He offers one guiding principle to follow in making this adjustment: Grow as many acres of the highest value crops as your farm can stand and yet keep erosion under control.

According to the records, corn has the highest value, followed in order by soybeans, clover, wheat and oats. At prices expected in 1954, you can look for about these profits per acre: $30 for 70-bushel corn, $24 for 32-bushel soybeans, $10 for two-ton clover, $9 for 29-bushel wheat and $4 for 48-bushel oats.

Profits are figured on $1.35 for corn, $2.30 for soybeans, $22 for clover hay, $1.80 for wheat and 70 cents for oats.

Johnston figures profits on the basis of records kept by cooperators in the detailed cost research project at the University, which has been continuous since 1912.

Profit, he says, is the income left after paying all costs for labor, management and fertilizer to replace plant foods used by the crops, plus all expenses for machinery and land.

Manure Means Pasture Profits

If you handle manure properly and apply it to crop and pasture land, you can figure another $40 profit per head in your dairy herd.

Leo Fryman, extension dairyman at the University of Illinois, says that one dairy cow will produce as much as 12 tons of manure in one year. Used for pasture and crop improvement, that manure can be worth $40.

Manured bluegrass plots at the University dairy farms produce more than twice as much forage as unmanured plots. Moreover, the treated fields yield pasture containing two to three times as much protein as the untreated, says Fryman.

This means that you can use less high-priced grain to balance the dairy ration when pasturing the treated forage.

For best results, apply the manure in early spring. If it contains noxious weed seeds, don't spread it on permanent pastures.

TAPE CAN'T PICK COWS

You still can't pick your best cow with a tape measure. The USDA and 20 state experiment stations measured 350 Holsteins and 346 Jerseys to see whether they could find a measurement that would predict milking ability.
They found the only measurement even remotely related to milking ability was length of head. Cows with long heads are slightly better, explains Capper's Farmer. So a milk scale and an accurate butterfat test still remain the only reliable means of determining which cows in your herd are the most profitable producers.

Tito Says 'McCarthyism' May Undermine Prestige Of American Way of Life

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (U.P.)—Marshal Tito told a party of visiting American editors today that "McCarthyism" may undermine the prestige of the American way of life abroad.

Tito refused to comment on Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) as a person. He said he did not know enough about him.

But he said McCarthy's actions are creating a system which is likely to undermine the favorable opinions foreigners hold of the American form of government and way of life.

Mrs. Bolen Perkins Hostess To Everyly Hayes Circle

The Everyly Hayes circle of the First Baptist church met for the March meeting at the home of Mrs. Bolen Perkins.

The meeting was opened by singing "Rescue the Perishing," and prayer was by Mrs. Sam Cole. The business session was conducted by the chairman, Mrs. M. R. Williams, and reports from other chairmen were given.

After the business session the program chairman, Mrs. Corby Wickham, was in charge. Scripture from John 1:35-40 was read by Mrs. Clarence Howell and Mrs. Will Spiraling led in prayer.

Mrs. Wickham gave an interesting talk on "At Home in Africa." Mrs. Raymond Greer gave a talk on "Can We Win the Jews for Christ?" which concluded the program.

Other members present were Mrs. Frank Channess, Mrs. Charles Gustin, Mrs. Dan Minner, Mrs. Eulless Hughes and three visitors, Mrs. George Lindenmuth and Mrs. Pruet Hart and little daughter, Georgia Lee.

The hostess served refreshments of date cake and coffee.

After the meeting Mrs. Lindenmuth and Mrs. Hart entertained those present with music on the organ and piano.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Spiraling.

Marratt, with no means of knowing what was in the marshal's craw but imagining the man had got into his identity, said: "What's the price of your help and what will it amount to?"

"Now you're talkin' my language," the marshal nodded. "A man's got to look out for No. 1 in this world. So here's the way we'll do it. On receipt of your signed confession an' a bona fide quietclaim deed to this spread I'll put the chance in your way to make a run for the border."

"And if the confession and deed aren't forthcoming?"

"You don't look," Hanna said, "like a guy that would very much enjoy a hemp necktie. Let's cut out the bull. You got a pen an' some paper?"

Behind inscrutable cheeks Grete Marratt was finding this mighty queer talk.

The marshal must still think Marratt was Usher and, if he did, this was a frame. But if it was that fire they were fixing to charge him with, why this talk about hanging? Had Gainer accused Marratt of killing Luke's father?

Hanna said, "Well, what you wantin' on?"

"I was trying to figure out what I'm supposed to confess."

"Beckwith's killin'," of course. You needn't put on with me."

"I didn't kill Beckwith."

"Makes no difference to me if you did or you didn't. You're going to hang for it, boy, if you don't write me them papers. You went down there two days ago an' had a row with the feller. Now he turns up dead in his office which looks like a cyclone went through it, an' your hat's on the floor. On top of that you put a check that come out of Beckwith's files—"

"That's not proof—"

"It's a jury you got to convince, not me." Hanna picked up the gun belt he'd fetched in from outside and broke open the pistol he pulled from its holster. "One shot fired. One chunk of lead the doc dug out of Beckwith. An' you think any jury's goin' to listen to you?"

"It won't come to no jury," Kid Boots drawled from the doorway. "You won't, either, without you drop them guns pronto."

There was a ludicrous look on the marshal's face. "Pick 'em up, boss," Kid Boots said, and Marratt lifted the guns from Ives Han-

While they lit smokes and sat back for their third cups of coffee, Marratt said: "Where were you last night when Hanna came here? Just the truth, Usher, and give it to me straight."

The green eyes gleamed. "How did you catch on?"

"You dug up that Bible, but I was pretty convinced when I heard Craffkin telling Gainer I wasn't Usher. He said the real Luke had yellow hair—or words to that effect."

"I can guess what that bird would use," Usher nodded. "What other slips did I make?"

"You should never have turned up with that dog, Luke."

Postpone Court Action For Roosevelt to Ask Demo Endorsement

LOS ANGELES (U.P.)—The submission of depositions from James Roosevelt and his estranged wife, Romelle, in her suit for separate maintenance has been postponed indefinitely.

Atty. Arthur Schifferman, representing Mrs. Roosevelt, said Friday the postponement was made "because Roosevelt plans to submit his name to certain Democratic organizations for endorsement" as a congressional candidate for the 26th District in June primaries.

In Memoriam
In remembrance of Wanda Pierce who passed away 3 years ago today, March 6, 1951.

We miss the well-known voice of you.
Your tender little smile.

The youth of you—the charm of you.
Your gladness all the while.

The world is full of folks 'tis true. But there was only one of you. Sadly missed by Mother and brothers, Gene and Freddie.

In Memoriam
In memory of Hugh McDonald, who departed this life 8 years ago today, March 6, 1946.

The 6th day of March is here again.
The saddest day of all the year.

For it took from us
The one we felt most dear.
Eight long years have come and gone.

They have left me sad and alone.
But some day I expect to meet him.

Where there will be no trouble or sorrow.
Where all will be happiness.

When we can stand together
Around God's heavenly throne.
Sadly missed by wife Minnie and family.

Too Soon to Hope For Employment Increase: Hoffman

WASHINGTON (UP)—Industrialist Paul G. Hoffman believes President Eisenhower may have been expecting "too much, too soon" in hoping employment would rise this month.

Hoffman, board chairman of the Studebaker Corp. and a close friend of Mr. Eisenhower, said the auto industry will not have any more employees at work at the end of March than it did at the beginning.

However, the Labor Department Friday reported the number of persons claiming unemployment insurance dipped slightly in the third week of February to total 2,168,200.

It was the second consecutive weekly decline in jobless claims after an almost uninterrupted rise that began in mid-November.

The unemployment insurance program covers only 36 million of the nation's 60 million workers but it is considered an important indicator of unemployment trends.

In a speech before the Advertising Council Friday, Hoffman said the chief problem facing American business is the public's unwillingness to buy for fear of an economic downturn. But he said there is "no reason not to have a good year" generally.

The Advertising Council is sponsoring a campaign to publicize the "positive" factors in U. S. economic life.

Strange Malady Hits Memphis Hospital Employees, Nurses

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UP)—At least 35 hospital employees including 29 student nurses at the John Gaston hospital have been stricken by a mysterious ailment that has not affected a single patient, the hospital reported today.

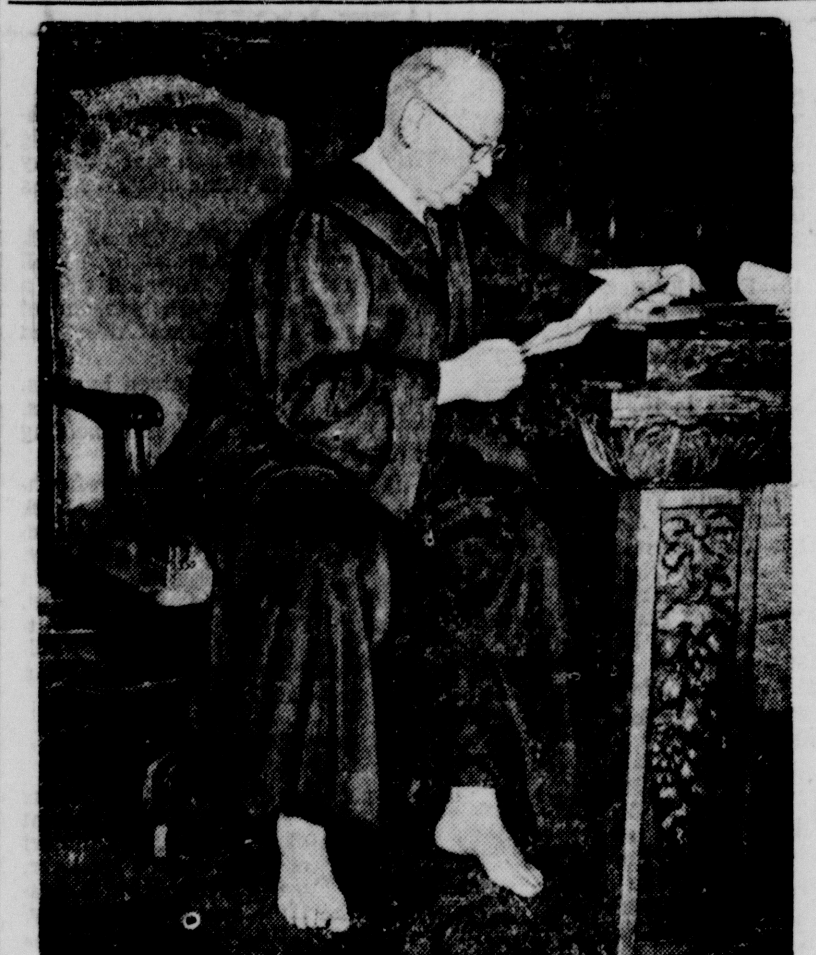

Administrator Robert Hardy said 21 of the nurses who began reporting the illness last Monday have been hospitalized and at least eight other student nurses have been affected, along with six other employees.

Hardy said the painful but apparently not serious illnesses have symptoms resembling food poisoning but he said he and other investigators doubt that food poisoning is the actual cause.

"We are trying to isolate a virus," he said. "However, we won't know until our investigation is complete." He indicated that this would involve further laboratory analysis.

He said one of the strange things about the outbreak is the fact that none of the patients at the hospital appear to have contracted the disease. He said there are 162 student nurses in all.

Re-Enlistment
In sailor jargon, "shipping over" means the re-enlistment of a sailor after the term of his previous enlistment has expired and he has been paid off.

BARE(FOOTED) JUSTICE—Common Pleas Judge Parker Fulton reads some papers in his Cleveland, Ohio, courtroom sans shoes and socks. The jurist was recuperating from an ankle-deep plunge into a slush puddle during the height of a blizzard which dumped 18 inches of snow on the city. The missing link in his judicial attire was demurely hidden by the bench from litigants in his divorce courtroom.

Prince Aly Khan to Visit Hollywood But Gene Tierney Undecided About Marriage

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Prince Aly Khan is due to fly from Egypt within the next week to visit Gene Tierney, but the sloop-eyed actress said today she hasn't decided whether she'll be his second movie star wife.

"I haven't made up my mind yet," was her only comment on her movie set at 20th Century-Fox.

Gene added the dark-haired prince telephoned her from Egypt Monday that he'll drop into Hollywood for a month's visit after a business stop in Paris.

His around-the-world flight to see the movie queen had Movie-town experts predicting she'll follow Rita Hayworth as a bride of the rich Moslem.

Met 14 Months Ago
The sophisticated actress wears a six-carat diamond resembling a small headlight that was a gift from her admirer. In her vault is a snapshot of the prince that she shows friends.

Since she left him to return to Hollywood from Europe two months ago, Aly has been running up a sizeable telephone bill. He's called her "two or three times a week," she has told friends, from Pakistan, South America, Egypt and other points of his global wanderings.

Aly has been courting the ex-debutante since they met in Europe 14 months ago. They were spotted dancing cheek-to-cheek in Paris. Later they turned up tossing $285 chips on the roulette tables of Monte Carlo.

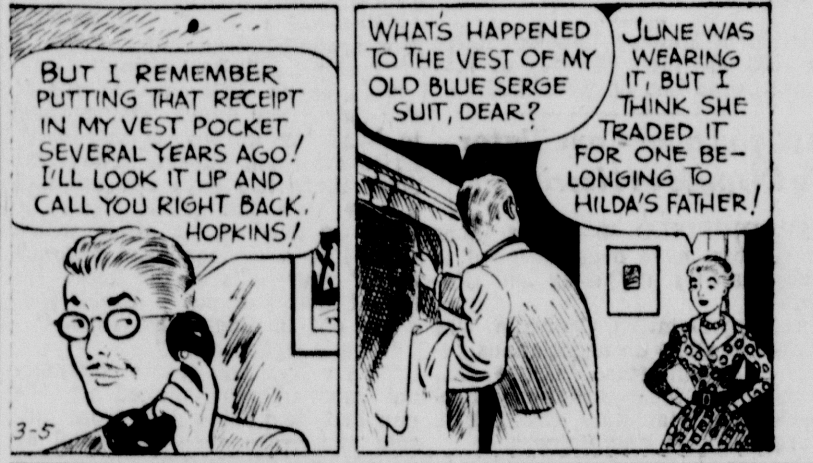

The actress hasn't dated local bachelors since she came back to work here. At parties she's been escorted by her agent, George Chasen, and her close friends, Fran and Ray Stark, who were entertained by Aly in Europe last year. During the prince's visit he's expected to be a house guest of the Starks.

Miss Tierney has started work in "The Egyptian," but friends said she would see the prince evenings and weekends.

"Some of Aly's friends doubt he will marry again, but, on the other hand, Gene is very well suited to be his wife," a friend of the actress says. "She thinks he's wonderful and certainly is in love."

Her friends point out Rita was unhappy in international society and disliked the round of parties, travel, horse races and hunting trips. But Miss Tierney "fits into that life," they say.

The green-eyed actress, formerly of New York society, was educated in Switzerland and speaks French fluently. Her divorce from her first husband, designer Oleg Cassini, was final a year ago.

Rams, Metropolis, Mt. Carmel and Douglass Play in Sectional Here

The program was arranged last night for next week's Harrisburg sectional basketball tournament when Mt. Vernon, Metropolis and Mt. Carmel won their own regional and Mounds Douglass was victorious at the Shawnee meet.

One game will be played each night on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday with the following schedule of games:

Wednesday night: Mt. Vernon vs. Metropolis.

Thursday night: Mt. Carmel vs. Mounds Douglass.

Friday night: Winners of the two games for the championship and a place in the state finals at Champaign.

On paper, the probable finals here stack up as one of the best in the state, with the probable entries being Mt. Vernon and Mt. Carmel. The Rams overcame a McLeansboro stall last night to win their own meet, 40 to 24, and Mt. Carmel ruined Grayville's 28-game winning streak, 102 to 59.

Metropolis won its regional by trouncing Cairo 63 to 39 and Mounds Douglass scored an 80 to 74 win over Vienna.

Plenty of Seats

Tickets will be allotted to participating schools with the participating towns getting 30 per cent each of the total and the host school getting 40 per cent, regulations set up by the Illinois High School association. However, because of the enormous size of the local gymnasium, it is believed that only the reserved seats will be at a premium, that there will be plenty of room for fans with general admission tickets.

West Frankfort, too, is holding a sectional and this meet will be outstanding. In it Pinckneyville is paired with Benton and Centralia will meet Marion.

To gain the Frankfort sectional Pinckneyville beat Trico 46-40 at Pinckneyville. Benton won its regional by beating West Frankfort, 59-56. Centralia won the Salem meet by beating the host team 76-63 and Marion won at Murphysboro, trouncing Elkhartville 97-57.

Dorrisville Basketball Team, Cheer Leaders Honored at Annual Dinner

The annual basketball dinner at Dorrisville grade school honoring team members and cheer leaders was held Friday evening.

Others attending the dinner, served in the school cafeteria, included parents of players and cheer leaders, Brose Phillips, Dorrisville principal and coach, Louie Beltz, Harriburg Junior high school coach, and Bill Melton, Daily Register sports writer. Mr. Beltz was speaker for the evening and Mr. Phillips master of ceremonies.

Athletics are important in that they are builders — builders of the body, mind, character and reputation, Mr. Beltz stated.

"Each game is an examination and the athlete either passes or fails — not wins or loses — but passes or fails," said Beltz. He indicated that if the players display team work, team spirit, and a sense of fair play they have "passed," otherwise they had "failed."

Mr. Phillips briefly reviewed the season, revealing that Dorrisville played 16 games, won 10 and lost six and scored 669 points while holding the opposition to 536 points. The team won second place in the Midgett conference tournament and third place in the district tournament, reaping trophies at each tournament.

"I sincerely enjoyed working with these boys, they were a fine group," Mr. Phillips stated. The cafeteria was gaily decorated in the school colors of blue and white, with streamers down the center of each table and on the walls. The players' table had a center piece consisting of a basketball mounted on a white base.

Illinois Squad Favored to Win Indoor Title

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — Illinois' small but well balanced track squad of 15 athletes remained today as the favorite to win the Big Ten indoor title for the fourth straight year in the 44th annual event in the Illini Armory.

The Illini lost only one entrant in trials in nine events Friday night while their leading challenger, Michigan, which had entered 34 men, had seven men run out of qualifying positions.

Qualifying times were not sensational in any of the events but one, the 70-yard low hurdles in which Northwestern's Ken Toye was clocked at :07.9 in winning one of the four heats. The time was only a tenth of a second off the American record.

Illinois' greatest strength was in the hurdle events as four runners qualified in the lows and two more in the highs. Illini runners won three heats in the lows, when Willie Williams, Joe Corley and James Nagle all came home in front.

Michigan's biggest losses were in the 300-yard run in which John Vallontigara was eliminated, and in the broad jump, where Junior Stielstra failed to show in the first six.

Illinois had 13 men to qualify and Michigan and Indiana 9 each. Iowa and Michigan State each placed 6, Purdue 5, Ohio State and Wisconsin 4, Northwestern 3, and Minnesota 1.

Illinois, by winning today, could tie Michigan for the most championships captured in the indoor meet. The Illini have won 14 times, one short of the Wolverine mark.

flanked by the two trophies and by one trophy was a picture of the team and a picture of the cheer leaders was by the other trophy.

Jim Stokich, acting as team spokesman, presented gifts to Mr. Phillips and to Toby Pelhank, who had accompanied the team throughout the season.

The program was opened with the invocation by Rev. E. C. Fisher, pastor of the First Church of God in Dorrisville.

Team members present were Captain Donald Trail, Bill Erris, Jim Stokich, Gene Lyon, Jack Simpson, Clifton Harris, Robert Wilson, Glenberry Beal, Glendale Fuhr, Wendell Fisher, Bill Joe Brown, John Turner, Jim Pellum, Jim Tom Proctor, Zan Hefner and Philip McDowell.

Cheer leaders were Beverly Bristow, Mary Jane Mullinix, Pat Duffee and Judy Hicks.

NIT Tourney Opens Tonight

NEW YORK (AP) — Dayton and Louisville were picked to inflict more woe on New York's suffering basketball teams tonight when the 17th annual National Invitation Tournament opens with a triple-header at Madison Square Garden. Louisville, bolstered by the return of two veterans, was a 4-1-2-point choice over St. Francis of Brooklyn, the unofficial New York City champion, in the 6 p. m. game that touches off festivities, and Dayton was a more emphatic 6-1-2-point choice over Manhattan in the second.

The tripleheader, which includes only unseeded teams, concludes with a game pitting Wichita's 80-points-a-game Shockers against Bowling Green, appearing in its sixth NIT.

After tonight, the tournament resumes Monday night with another triple-header. The first game in the one completes the first-round eliminations among unseeded teams with Brigham Young, the only former winner in the field, facing St. Francis of Loretto, Pa. Then come the first two games of the quarter finals with Niagara meeting the Dayton-Manhattan winner and Western Kentucky playing the Wichita-Bowling Green winner. On Tuesday night, Duquesne meets the Brigham Young-St. Francis (Pa.) winner and Holy Cross plays the Louisville-St. Francis (NY) winner.

Morton Beats LaGrange 65 to 64; Sectional Play Begins Wednesday

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — Cicero Morton toppled defending state champion La Grange Friday night as regional crowns were captured by 60 Illinois prep basketball teams.

La Grange's Lions, rated No. 1 team in downstate Illinois from start to finish of the season, were stunned by a 65-64 defeat in the final game of the Riverside regional.

Morton, now riding a 19-game winning streak, and the other 59 regional winners advance to the 15 sectional meets opening Wednesday. Sectional titlists go to the state finals at Champaign March 17-20.

Other victorious quintets in regional championship games included Pinckneyville, Mount Vernon, Quincy, Rockford East, Edwardsville, Litchfield, Moline, Centralia, Barrington, Princeton, Peoria Central, Harvey and Mount Carmel.

Left by the wayside along with La Grange were Grayville, Peru St. Bede, Rich Township, Rock Island, Canton and West Frankfort.

Six "Sweet 16" Teams in Running
The last three teams and La Grange were members of the 1953 "Sweet Sixteen." Only six downstate teams from this elite group are still contending for return trips to Champaign.

The Morton-La Grange clash was played before a crowd of 4,500 at Riverside. Sam Tisci and Don Matuszak, with 33 points total, sparked Morton to victory.

Ted Caiazza, star La Grange center, scored 29 points but drew three personal fouls early in the game and his play was hampered. La Grange pulled to an early 7-1 lead. Just before the half ended, Morton rallied and took the lead by a 29-29 margin, with Tisci scoring two free throws.

A 16-7 scoring edge for Morton in the third quarter told the story. La Grange tried desperately to rally, Caiazza registering two baskets in the final minute of play, but the Lions fell short.

Pinckneyville Wins
Most other regional favorites had a relatively easy time. The only team besides La Grange which was ranked among the state's top 15 by the United Press board of coaches and was defeated was Rich.

DeMarco Wins Title from Jimmy Carter

NEW YORK (AP) — Paddy DeMarco, who became the first Brooklyn-born lightweight champion on a thundering upset, said today "I'll out-speed him again" when he meets ex-champ Jimmy Carter in a return title bout this summer.

"It was my speed that beat him," said the flat-nosed, bull-necked champ who went into the ring a 4-1 underdog Friday night before 5,730 in Madison Square Garden and came out with a unanimous 15-round decision and the title.

No victory of previous lightweight greats like Joe Gans, Benny Leonard, Tony Canzone or Barney Ross was ever greeted with more abandoned enthusiasm than the astounding triumph in which the "Billygoat" gashed and defeated his expected butcher.

Each weighed 135 pounds, exactly the lightweight limit. Hints of moisture appeared in Paddy's eyes today when he said, "I dreamed for nine long years of winning the title. And I'm only sorry my manager Jimmy Dixon wasn't alive to see it. But he was with me all through the fight. And I was winning for him."

Dixon died last year, but Paddy will give the manager's 33-1-3 of his purse to Dixon's widow. His purse from the $22,727 gate and $30,000 radio-television money approximated $9,750. Carter got the lion's share — about $19,490.

A return-bout contract calls for 26-year-old Paddy to defend against the 30-year-old New York Negro within 90 days; but a nine-stitch gash in Carter's left brow may delay the meeting. Jimmy suffered the brow-cut in the sixth round.

His surprise performance, in which he out-boxed and out-fought the highly regarded Carter, won the rounds votes of the three ring officials as follows: Referee Ruby Goldstein, 7-5-3; Judge Harold Parnes, 9-6; and Judge Artie Aidala, 9-5-1. The United Press favored him 8-6-1.

Big Ten Will Hold Drawing to Name NCAA Team if 3-Way Tie

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — Big Ten athletic directors have agreed to hold a drawing to decide this year's conference representative in the NCAA basketball tournament if the loop's regular season ends in a three-way tie, it was learned today.

If a three-way tie results at the end of a conference scheduled play Saturday, representatives of the three teams would be invited to the Big Ten office in Chicago Sunday morning, where a blind draw would be made.

The name of one team would be picked out of a hat, and this team would be conference entry in the NCAA Iowa City regional March 12.

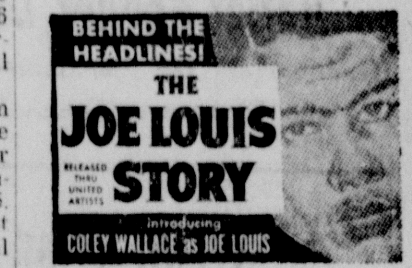

Inhibitors
There are a number of chemicals which keep fats and oils from becoming rancid. They are called inhibitors and are used extensively in compounding automobile motor oils, but they are not edible and so cannot be used to preserve fats used in cooking. However, there are certain natural materials, such as Vitamin E and oat flour which have some value in the latter application.

In remembrance of Wanda Pierce who passed away 3 years ago today, March 6, 1951. We miss the well-known voice of you.

Your tender little smile.
The youth of you—the charm of you.
Your gladness all the while.
The world is full of folks, 'tis true. But there was only one of you. Sadly missed by Mother and brothers, Gene and Freddie. *210-1

In Memoriam

In memory of Hugh McDonald, who departed this life 8 years ago today, March 6, 1946.

The 6th day of March is here again.
The saddest day of all the year. For it took from us
The one we felt most dear.
Eight long years have come and gone.

They have left me sad and alone. But some day I expect to meet him.
Where there will be no trouble or sorrow.

Where all will be happiness. When we can stand together Around God's heavenly throne. Sadly missed by wife Minnie and family. *210-1

SOME DAY—Youngster looks longingly at Washington Senators' pepper practice at Tinker Field, Orlando, Fla., probably figuring that a few years and a little more height and weight is all he needs to join them. Little League comes first for him, however. (NEA)

World Series hero Billy Martin wasn't helped any in the re-consideration of his draft status (which finds him facing imminent recall to service) by his showy displays around Berkeley, Calif. . . . Andy Carey would be tougher to pry away from the Yanks than Gil McDougall.

Wayne basketball coach Joel Mason, who's seen them both, doesn't give Indiana a chance with Duquesne . . . Because they're not in the same rebounding league . . . The pros say the Hoosiers' big (6-10) Don Schlundt will have to develop a hook shot before he can qualify even as a pseudo-Mikan . . . Minnesota's Ozzie Cowles likes Oklahoma Aggies' Bob Matlick over Schlundt.

While in Indiana, Bill Harlow, head of Big Ten cage officials, calls Hoosier guard Bob Leonard the best player in the country . . . Furman fireball Frank Selvy comes from the same town (Corbin, Ky.) as sportscaster Russ Hodges . . . And played high school ball with Russ' son, Pat, now a Colgate student.

How-right-you-are dept. — Duquesne coach Duddy Moore says, "Don't tell me how many points he got. Who won?" . . . The Rev. Bob Richards, world's premier pole vaulter, calls himself "the only preacher trying to get to heaven on his own strength."

Dartmouth, O., the hometown of Walter Alston, is so small it doesn't even have a post office . . . Rumors of unrest are hovering over the Los Angeles football Rams, with a dissatisfied dozen ready to blow their horns . . . Herb Johnson, halfback snatched by the New York Giants from Canada, was one of the cadets in the West Point cribbing episode.

Al McGuire, the Eddie Stanky of professional basketball, is finding that pugacity won't substitute for talent and is in the market for a coaching job . . . Insiders say 6-9 Ken Sears of Santa Clara, a flop in his Madison Square Garden visit (he was blanked), still will run 1-2-3 in the pro draft.

Harry Moskowitz, a prominent college basketball official, is called Jammy . . . because as a kid basketball player he had to eat bread.

SIU Senior Attends International Relations Clubs Conference

Robert Wayne Richey, senior at Southern Illinois university, was one of three students from the college who attended the three-day Midwestern International Relations Clubs conference held last week at DePauw University at Greencastle, Ind. Twenty schools from the four-state area took part.

Several round table discussions were held, and Wayne was the speaker of one, his subject being "The Peace Treaty and International Relations Between the U. S. and Japan."

At present, Wayne, son of Mr.

Dutch Warmerdam bemoans the pole-vaulter taking going to pot in Don Laz, the lassitudinous Illini grad . . . A major league baseball club can save $5,000 a season by using air over rail travel.

Al Naiman, the Cleveland wrecking in charge of Rocky Castellani, looked like a fluttery father at the birth of his first-born after his tiger mauled Ernie Durando.

Blanton Collier, the new Kentucky football leader, is probably the only big-time college coach in the country who never played varsity football . . . He was a 125-pounder at Georgetown College . . . North Carolina, with a roving eye for basketball players, also employs Charley Justice in the off-season as a grid recruiter.

The newly-formed Ivy League's move to abolish athletic scholarships is ridiculous—and impractical, if they're going to keep playing in big stadia before win-hungry alumni . . . The rapport between pro and amateur tennis gets ever closer, as witness the Southern California Tennis Association's sponsorship of the Jack Kramer troupe in Los Angeles.

Rams, Metropolis, Mt. Carmel and Douglass Play in Sectional Here

The program was arranged last night for next week's Harrisburg sectional basketball tournament when Mt. Vernon, Metropolis and Mt. Carmel won their own regional and Mounds Douglass was victorious at the Shawnee meet.

One game will be played each night on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday with the following schedule of games:

Wednesday night: Mt. Vernon vs. Metropolis.

Thursday night: Mt. Carmel vs. Mounds Douglass.

Friday night: Winners of the two games for the championship and a place in the state finals at Champaign.

On paper, the probable finals here stacked up as one of the best in the state, with the probable entries being Mt. Vernon and Mt. Carmel. The Rams overcame a McLeansboro stall last night to win their own meet, 40 to 24, and Mt. Carmel routed Grayville's 28-game winning streak, 102 to 59.

Metropolis won its regional by trouncing Cairo 63 to 39 and Mounds Douglass scored an 80 to 74 win over Vienna.

Plenty of Seats Tickets will be allotted to participating schools with the participating towns getting 30 per cent each of the total and the host school getting 40 per cent, regulations set up by the Illinois High School association. However, because of the enormous size of the local gymnasium, it is believed that only the reserved seats will be at a premium, that there will be plenty of room for fans with general admission tickets.

West Frankfort, too, is holding a sectional and this meet will be outstanding. In it Pinckneyville is paired with Benton and Centralia will meet Marion.

To gain the Frankfort sectional Pinckneyville beat Trico 48-40 at Pinckneyville. Benton won its regional by beating West Frankfort, 59-56. Centralia won the Salem meet by defeating the host team 76-63 and Marion won at Murphysboro, trouncing Elkhart 97-57.

Dorrisville Basketball Team, Cheer Leaders Honored at Annual Dinner

The annual basketball dinner at Dorrisville grade school honoring team members and cheer leaders was held Friday evening.

Others attending the dinner, served in the school cafeteria, included parents of players and cheer leaders, Brose Phillips, Dorrisville principal and coach, Louie Beltz, Harriburg Junior high school coach, and Bill Melton, Daily Register sports writer. Mr. Beltz was speaker for the evening and Mr. Phillips master of ceremonies.

Athletics are important in that they are builders — builders of the body, mind, character and reputation. "Each game is an examination and the athlete either passes or fails — not wins or loses — but passes or fails," said Beltz.

He indicated that if the players display team work, team spirit, and a sense of fair play they have "passed," otherwise they had "failed."

Mr. Phillips briefly reviewed the season, revealing that Dorrisville played 16 games, won 10 and lost six and scored 669 points while holding the opposition to 596 points. The team won second place in the Midwestern conference tournament and third place in the district tournament, receiving trophies at each tournament.

"I sincerely enjoyed working with these boys, they were a fine group," Mr. Phillips stated. The cafeteria was gaily decorated in the school colors of blue and white, with streamers down the center of each table and on the walls. The players' table had a centerpiece consisting of a basketball mounted on a white base.

Illinois Squad Favored to Win Indoor Title

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. — Illinois' small but well balanced track squad of 15 athletes remained today as the favorite to win the Big Ten indoor title for the fourth straight year in the 44th annual event in the Illini Armory.

The Illini lost only one entrant in trials in nine events Friday night while their leading challenger, Michigan, which had entered 34 men, had seven men run out of qualifying positions.

Qualifying times were not sensational in any of the events but one, the 70-yard low hurdles in which Northwestern's Ken Tose was clocked at .07.9 in winning one of the four heats. The time was only a tenth of a second off the American record.

Illinois' greatest strength was in the hurdle events as four runners qualified in the lows and two more in the highs. Illini runners won three heats in the lows, when Willie Williams, Joe Corley and James Nagle all came home in front.

Michigan's biggest losses were in the 300-yard run in which John Vallortigara was eliminated, and in the broad jump, where Junior Stielstra failed to show in the first six.

Illinois had 13 men to qualify and Indiana and Michigan 9 each. Iowa and Michigan State each placed 6, Purdue 5, Ohio State and Wisconsin 4, Northwestern 3, and Minnesota 1.

Illinois, by winning today, could tie Michigan for the most championships captured in the indoor meet. The Illini have won 14 times, one short of the Wolverine mark.

Morton Beats LaGrange 65 to 64; Sectional Play Begins Wednesday

SPRINGFIELD (UP) — Cicero Morton toppled defending state champion La Grange Friday night as regional crowns were captured by 60 Illinois prep basketball teams.

La Grange's Lions, rated No. 1 team in downstate Illinois from start to finish of the season, were stunned by a 65-64 defeat in the final game of the Riverside regional.

Morton, now riding a 19-game winning streak, and the other 59 regional winners advance to the 15 sectional meets opening Wednesday. Sectional titlists go to the state finals at Champaign March 17-20.

Other victorious quintets in regional championship games included Pinckneyville, Mount Vernon, Quincy, Rockford East, Edwardsville, Litchfield, Moline, Centralia, Barrington, Princeton, Peoria Central, Harvey and Mount Carmel.

Left by the wayside along with La Grange were Grayville, Peru St. Bede, Rich Township, Rock Island, Canton and West Frankfort.

"Sweet 16" Teams in Running The last three teams and La Grange were members of the 1953 "Sweet Sixteen," this elite group of state teams from this elite group are still contending for return trips to Champaign.

The Morton-La Grange clash was played before a crowd of 4,500 at Riverside. Sam Tisci and Don Matuszak, with 33 points total, sparked Morton to victory.

Ted Calizza, star La Grange center, scored 29 points but drew the three personal fouls early in the game and his play was hampered.

La Grange pulled to an early 7-1 lead. Just before the half ended, Morton rallied and took the lead by a 29-28 margin, with Tisci scoring two free throws.

A 16-7 scoring edge for Morton in the third quarter told the story. La Grange tried desperately to rally, Calizza registering two baskets in the final minute of play, but the Lions fell short.

Pinckneyville Wins Most other regional favorites had a relatively easy time. The only team besides La Grange which was ranked among the state's top 15 by the United Press board of coaches and was defeated was Rich.

No victory of previous lightweight greats like Joe Gans, Benny Leonard, Tony Canzoneri or Barney Ross was ever greeted with more abandoned enthusiasm than the astounding triumph in which the "Billygoat" gashed and defeated his expected butcher.

Each weighed 125 pounds, exactly the lightweight limit.

Hints of moisture appeared in Paddy's eyes today when he said, "I dreamed for nine long years of winning the title. And I'm only sorry my manager Jimmy Dixon wasn't alive to see it. But he was with me all through the fight. And I was winning for him."

Dixon died last year, but Paddy will give the manager's 33 1-3 of his purse to Dixon's widow. His purse from the $23,727 gate and $30,000 radio-television money approximated $9,750. Carter got the lion's share — about $19,490.

A return-bout contract calls for 26-year-old Paddy to defend against the 30-year-old New York Negro within 90 days; but a nine-stitch gash in Carter's left brow may delay the meeting. Jimmy suffered the blow-out in the sixth round.

His surprise performance, in which he out-boxed and out-fought the highly regarded Carter, won the rounds votes of the three ring officials as follows: Referee Ruby Goldstein, 7-5-3; Judge Harold Garmes, 9-6; and Judge Artie Aidala, 9-5-1. The United Press favored him 8-6-1.

Big Ten Will Hold Drawing to Name NCAA Team if 3-Way Tie

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. — Big Ten athletic directors have agreed to hold a drawing to decide this year's conference representative in the NCAA basketball tournament if the loop's regular season ends in a three-way tie, it was learned today.

If a three-way tie results at the end of a conference scheduled play Saturday, representatives of the three teams would be invited to the Big Ten office in Chicago Sunday morning, where a blind draw would be made.

The name of one team would be picked out of a hat, and this team would be conference entry in the NCAA Iowa City regional March 12.

Inhibitors

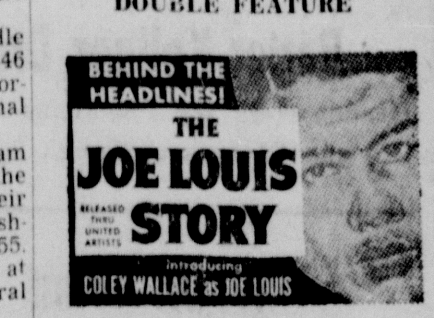

There are a number of chemicals which keep fats and oils from becoming rancid. They are called inhibitors and are used extensively in compounding automobile motor oils, but they are not edible and so cannot be used to preserve fats used in cooking. However, there are certain natural materials, such as vitamin E and oat flour which have some value in the latter application.

ATTEND CHURCH SUNDAY

FAITH ALONE can guide man's footsteps into the future

In these days of swift change and catastrophic events the eyes of thoughtful men turn from the present to the unknown future. What does it hold for them, their families, their friends and their world?

Behind the dark veil that separates today from tomorrow may lie strange, new forces, treacherous tides, innumerable hidden dangers and new foes of human life and happiness. These are the great uncertainties of life.

The man of today, like his primitive ancestor, peers anxiously, even fearfully, into the future and tries to solve its mysteries, but the effort is futile. His vision is unable to pierce the darkness that shrouds tomorrow and tomorrow and tomorrow.

Yet man has risen from primitive degradation, through all the difficulties and dangers of the revolving years, to his present civilized estate. He has fought the beasts of the forest, the diseases of the jungle, the pangs of hunger and the sting of cold—and has survived.

He has survived and become preeminent in the world because he possessed faith—faith in himself and his race, and faith in a Supreme Being who drew the pattern of the universe and made the laws that govern human destinies.

This is the golden thread that runs through human history. It is the key to all the uncertainties and mysteries. It is the light that has guided man's footsteps into his eternal futures.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For the sake of his community and nation. (3) For the sake of the Church itself which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.
The raising of Lazarus from the dead, as recorded in John 11:4, has been properly called "the greatest miracle of the Gospel story."

The only other instance in the Gospels of the bringing to life from the dead is that of the son of the widow of Nain (Luke 7:12-15), and the Resurrection of Jesus Himself.

In the case of the widow's son a plausible explanation might be that the boy was apparently dead, but actually in a trance. But in the case of Lazarus no such plausible explanation is possible, for the record specifically states that Lazarus had been dead four days and mortification had set in.

So the event as recorded is wholly and completely miraculous, with no explanation whatever but in the life-giving power of Christ. There are some puzzling things about this miraculous raising of Lazarus. It is strange that there is no reference to it in the other three Gospels—Matthew, Mark and Luke.

And a deeper question that suggests itself is why, with that life-giving power, Jesus exercised it only in these two instances.

Dr. David Smith, a Scottish scholar, points out that the miracle occurred during the last year of the ministry of Jesus, when between the Feast of Tabernacles in October and the Feast of the Dedication in December Jesus was in Jerusalem and had been driven out by the rulers (John 10:31-39).

He represents Jesus as deliberately waiting until there was no doubt of Lazarus' death that He might "not only manifest His power to his friends, but make a signal appeal to impotent Jerusalem by working a miracle which would attest His Messiahship beyond all question."

If Dr. Smith is right, the miracle had no such effect upon the enemies of Jesus in Jerusalem, who were not only aroused to greater fury against Him, but sought to kill the resurrected Lazarus as well (John 12:10).

Dr. Smith thinks that the failure of Lazarus to appear later and show his gratitude to the Christ who had raised him was because of his being in hiding from that threat.

Jesus Himself never set the miracle as being of primary importance. His supreme appeal was spiritual.

To accept His words, to follow His example and to find new life through the Gospel of the grace of God—this stands out as above all else.

The Gospels might easily have been compiled wholly of miraculous things, but it is an evidence of their greatness and of their authenticity that Jesus stands out in their pages, not as a great magician, but as a great Savior.
